OPPOSE MINIMUM WAGE LAW.

Manufacturers and Labor Union Men Speak Against Plan.

NEW YORK, February 25.—At a meeting yesterday of the minimum wage commission of the National Civic Federation to give a hearing to Mrs. Charles Farwell Edison, who told of the minimum wage law in California, representatives of industrial and commercial organizations and of organized labor united in attacking the principles of such legislation.
After Mrs. Edison had spoken in favor of the California law, A. Parke Nevins, general counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers; Hugh Frayne, organizer of the American Federation of Labor, and J. W. Sullivan, a trades union advocate, spoke on the question, declaring their opposition to a minimum wage for women.

Mr. Nevins, in opposing minimum wage legislation, urged that the matter be left for the unions and the employers to work out together.

Mr. Frayne and the other speakers representing labor unions declared they could fix their own minimum wage rate without help from the state government.
